

Kaufmann & Co.

Wishing
A Merry Christmas and
A Happy New Year
to All.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

A PRETTY wedding was celebrated December 23d in the home of Mr. P. C. Patterson, No. 1322 North Twenty-second Street, at 3 o'clock, when Mr. Vernon W. B. Pugh, of Portsmouth, Va., and Miss Bertha L. Hastings, of Richmond, were married. The parlor was handsomely decorated for the occasion, and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. W. Taylor, pastor of Haskel Memorial Church. After the ceremony the couple left for Portsmouth, where they will make their future home.

The groom is the eldest son of Mr. James H. Pugh, of Portsmouth, and has a position in that city. The bride is a daughter of the late William F. Hastings, of this city.

Nelson-Inge.
The wedding of Miss Alice Ethel Inge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Inge, of Nottoway, to Mr. J. Nelson, of Blackstone, Va., was celebrated Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the parlors of Richmond Hotel, the Rev. H. D. C. Macchian, of Seventh-Street Christian Church, officiating.

Mrs. J. P. Morgan and Mr. W. E. Barnes, of Nottoway, who accompanied the young couple to Richmond, were the only attendants. The bride wore a tailored gown of London smoke, with hat to match, and carried Bride roses. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson will be at the Richmond for several days longer before returning to their future home at Blackstone, where Mr. Nelson holds a responsible business position, and both he and his bride are well known and popular.

Ransome-Johnson.
On Monday, December 21st, Miss Virginia Franklin Johnson was quietly married to Mr. Harvey A. Ransome, of Gloucester county, the ceremony being performed in the home of the Rev. J. P. Hutton, pastor of Pine-Street Baptist Church, who was the officiating clergyman.

Gladden-Cox.
A pretty home wedding was celebrated at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday evening in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Cox, No. 612 North Twenty-seventh Street, when Miss Grace Burton Cox became the bride of Mr. Ernest Gladden. Mr. Clarence Paul, nephew of Miss Cox, and Mr. William Norman acted as ushers. The bride was given away by her father.

Miss Cox is a popular young lady of Church Hill, and the groom, whose home is in York, S. C., has business connections in this city.

The young couple left on a late train for the South, and will visit the home of the groom returning to his residence in Richmond.

The Rev. Otis Meade was officiating clergyman.

Sued-Bowles.
The wedding of Miss Lilian Sued to Mr. William A. Bowles took place quietly in the home of the groom, W. A. Laughon Wednesday evening at 3:30 o'clock. Mr. Laughon performed the ceremony in the presence of a few special friends who accompanied the bride and groom.

Personal Mention.
Miss Mary Latham Willis left Wednesday night to spend the holidays with her friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. Jeter Hughes, in Atlanta, Ga. Before returning she will visit Dr. and Mrs. Robert P. Griffith, of Columbus, Ga.

Colonel Julius L. Powell, of the United States Army, after many years of active service at home and abroad, is on a short visit to friends and relatives in this city.

Mr. R. T. Snyder is now able to leave St. Luke's Hospital and return to his home.

Misses Emma and Jessie Wigglesworth, of Amelia, will entertain a Christmas house party during the holidays.

Miss Lucy Curtis, of Woman's College, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Curtis, of Newport News.

Miss Lottie Price is now in Buchanan, and will go to Buchanan to visit her sister in Montvale.

Miss Margaret Wilson is the Christmas guest of her cousins, the Misses Reese, of Newport News.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Eaton Powell have returned from a Southern trip, and are at home to their friends in Richmond. They were married in Charlotte, N. C., on December 18th.

Faville-Lindsay.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., December 24.—Miss Norma Clare Lindsay, daughter of Mr. James Hubert Lindsay, was married at her home this evening at 6 o'clock to Mr. Mark Roy Faville, of Portland, N. Y. The ceremony took place in the dining-room of the Lindsay residence, on Werlman Street, near the University of Virginia, and was solemnized by the Rev. George L. Pettie, D. D., of the Presbyterian Church. The bride was given away by her father. The only attendant was the maid of honor, Miss Paisley Ellington, of Greensboro, N. C. The wedding march was rendered by Miss Nellie.

Following the ceremony a reception was tendered the invited guests, after which Mr. and Mrs. Faville left over the Southern Railway for Philadelphia and New York, where they will spend their honeymoon. They will reside in Charlottesville until Mr. Faville has received his degree at the university.

The bride is the eldest child of Mr. James H. Lindsay, editor of the Daily Progress, who was a member of the Constitutional Convention. The word charming may be used without reserve in describing the engaging qualities of mind and heart which she received as a heritage from her parents. Endowed, like her mother, with a talent for music, she has assiduously and successfully cultivated her gift under favoring conditions, until she occupies a distinguished place in the esteem of capable judges.

Mr. Faville has been a student in the medical department of the University of Virginia for nearly three years. The judgment of the campus, which seldom errs, places him among the leaders in variety life. His course has been of fine public service, and he has been rewarded by election to the vice-presidency of the General Athletic Association of his alma mater, one of the most coveted honors bestowed by the student body. He is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta and the Sigma Xi fraternities, of the Arcadians, the University Dramatic Club, of the Eli Ribbon Society, director of the university band, and leader of the university choir. Before coming to Virginia Mr. Faville was a student at Cornell University, where he was a member of the varsity football eleven.

Eastham-Finley.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
TWINNAN'S MILL, VA., December 24.—Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock the marriage of Miss Mary John Finley to Dr. Granville Eastham was solemnized at the bride's home, "Sunlight," Culpeper county, Va. The Rev. T. E. Cullen, pastor of the Baptist Church, officiated in the following order to the strains of "Lohengrin," rendered by Ethel Fray: The little ribbon-bow, Miss Julia Finley and Master William Eastham, the bride and groom, Mr. Selton Garpet, followed by the bride with her maid of honor, Miss Anna Hickers.

Two Weddings.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
CHATHAM, VA., December 24.—Mrs. Manie R. Haley and Mr. Samuel H. Shelton, of Elba, were married at the home of Rev. W. D. Barr Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Barr officiating. Immediately following this ceremony Mr. Barr married Miss Lettie F. Mayhew and Mr. William R. Compton, also of near Elba.

The couples left on the afternoon train for their homes.

Bendall-Penick.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
SOUTH BOSTON, VA., December 24.—Mrs. Lou Penick and Mr. Moseley Bendall, both of this place, were married at the home of the bride yesterday afternoon, the Rev. G. Peyton Craig, of the Episcopal Church, officiating. Both are well known here and have many friends. They left on the northbound train for a Northern bridal tour.

Skinner-Powell.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
DANVILLE, VA., December 24.—Miss Evelyn Allen Powell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Powell, became the bride of Mr. Berkeley Carrington Skinner. The wedding ceremony was performed at the home of the bride in the presence of a few relatives. Rev. J. D. Hicks, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated.

Baird-Downey.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
LYNN, VA., December 24.—The marriage of Miss Charlotte M. Downey to Mr. Donald G. Baird, a successful young business man, at the Lutheran Church, was celebrated in the presence of many friends of the contracting parties here. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Downey, of Mt. Jackson, Shenandoah county. She is well known in the Valley. Rev. J. C. Peery, pastor of the church, was the officiating minister.

Perry-Nash.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
FREDERICKSBURG, VA., December 24.—Maurice V. Perry and Miss Mabel Nash, both of this city, were married here last night at the residence of Rev. A. A. Williams, who performed the ceremony. They will reside in this city.

Entertain at Cards.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., December 24.—Miss Bertha Emmerson entertained her many young friends last evening at a card party at her home in High Street. Progressive six-hand euchre was played, and the score cards were appropriate to Yuletide. Those enjoying Miss Emmerson's charming hospitality were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry MacKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Nash, Misses Claudia and Elizabeth Old, Nancy Nash, Chandler Wieg, Annie Hunt, Gladys Ball, Helen Hunter, Emma Martin, Pansy Nemeyer, Alice Toomer, Augusta Maupin, Louise and Dixie Niemeyer, Lucy Sylvester, Julia Langhorne, Elizabeth Armistead, Mary Lookhart, Cecile Williams, Betty Ashton, Maara, Ridgely Fortier, Charlie and James Hume, Philip Meade, M. E. Weeks, Vernon Gresham, Alice Martin, Robert Albertson, J. T. Van Patten, Jr., Dardson, Tomlinson, Johnson, Neely, Louis Plummer, John Ashton, Morson, James Martin, C. C. Lance, Peyton Ennis, Lawrence Williams, William Armistead.

Little-Wayne.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., December 24.—A beautiful wedding ceremony was solemnized last night at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. D. C. Wayne, in Fairfax Avenue, when Miss Florence A. Wayne became the bride of Mr. Randolph Ryland Little.

Miss Margaret Wayne acted as maid of honor. She wore a dainty white frock, with lace trimmings. Mr. John Carroll was the groom's best man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. P. Minor, promptly at 8 o'clock and was followed by a small reception. Mr. and Mrs. Little will for the present reside with the bride's mother.

Dudley-Whitelaw.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
MONTEREY, VA., December 24.—At the bride's home, near Hightown, this county, at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, Mr. Frederick Dudley and Miss Mary, daughter of Dr. N. A. Whitelaw, were married. Rev. Thomas Cooper, of the Methodist Church, officiating.

COMMISSION'S PLAN.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
GREENSBORO, N. C., December 24.—If all signs do not fall, the city of Greensboro will, after the next General Assembly will have acted, be governed by the Commission Plan, modified to suit the conditions of this community and the views of its present Board of Aldermen. Some weeks ago Mayor Barndt, appointed Messrs. John L. King, C. C. McLean and City Attorney Thomas J. Shaw as a committee on amendments to the city charter to be recommended to the Guilford county representatives for adoption by the Legislature. Last night at an executive meeting of the City Council, this committee reported a tentative charter for the future government of the city, which, after careful discussion, was unanimously agreed to, and the City Attorney was instructed to draw a charter in conformity with the plans agreed upon by the City Council.

The charter, with the understanding that when finally passed upon the proposed charter will be published in full in the newspapers, that the public may read and digest, and, if desirable, hold public meetings, approving or suggesting changes to it.

It is understood that the new charter will provide for the election of one Alderman from each of the six wards of the city, as is the present method. But these Aldermen are to select one commissioner for each of four business districts, to be known as Public Improvements and Schools, who shall receive a salary and be immediately responsible for the conduct of each of these several departments, subject to the control of the City Council. The Council, instead of having to be moved to change any official by petition or any specified number of petitions to call an election, will have power to itself summarily dismiss any commissioner whose duties are not being properly performed, and supply the vacancy by the selection of another.

The new charter will also provide for a Police Justice, or Recorder's Court, with enlarged powers over those of the present Magistrate's and Mayor's Courts.

Reception to Pastor.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., December 24.—A reception was tendered Dr. and Mrs. George W. Swope, the new pastor of Central Baptist Church last night at the close of the prayer services. The address of welcome was delivered by the Rev. C. S. Blackwell, D. D., and responded to by Dr. Swope. Light refreshments were served and the evening spent in social features.

Shipwrecked Men Brought to Port on Lord Ormonde.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NEWPORT NEWS, VA., December 24.—The British steamship Lord Ormonde, of the Holland-American Line, arrived in port to-day from Rotterdam with Captain James Cooke and the crew of seven men, of the three-masted schooner, which was waterlogged thirty miles south of Cape Henry Wednesday morning during the recent northeast gale. The vessel is anchored near Cape Henry, and Captain Cooke will go to sea with a tug to try to get her into Hampton Roads. The schooner was bound from Charleston, S. C., for New York with a cargo of lumber. She encountered the storm off Cape Poge, Va., and the heavy seas opened her seams. She filled rapidly and became waterlogged Wednesday morning.

The Lord Ormonde rescued the crew about noon Wednesday. The steamer arrived here fourteen days overdue from Rotterdam, and reports a rough passage across the Atlantic.

PARDON IS SOUGHT.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Effort Being Made to Secure Liberty for Ernest L. Dashiell.

NORFOLK, VA., December 24.—An application has been made to Governor Swanson for an unconditional pardon for Ernest L. Dashiell, the former Portsmouth real estate and insurance dealer, now serving a term of four years in the penitentiary upon a plea of guilty to the charge of robbery in one of the several cases brought against him as the result of his operations in Portsmouth during the year 1907.

The application was presented to Governor Swanson recently by Rev. George H. Spooner, pastor of Monumental Methodist Church, Portsmouth, of which Mr. Dashiell was a member. Governor Swanson has, as he does in all such cases, referred the papers to the trial judge and Commonwealth's attorney for their approval or endorsement. They are now in the hands of Judge Bain, of the Hastings Court of Portsmouth, and Commonwealth's Attorney Stewart, of Portsmouth.

Judge Bain, when Dashiell entered a plea of guilty, refused to accept the recommendation of the Commonwealth's attorney that Dashiell be given the minimum punishment of two years in the penitentiary, and fixed his punishment at four years.

Governor Swanson has said in this case that he will be guided largely by the recommendations of the trial judge and Commonwealth's attorney.

Dashiell has been in the penitentiary for ten months, and former Cashier A. B. Butt, of the wrecked People's Bank, who pleaded guilty and got three years, having been sent to the penitentiary on the same day.

May You Enjoy a Merry Christmas and a Happy, Prosperous New Year

Good-Bye, 1908.

□ A liberal patronage by a generous public during past years is most sincerely appreciated.

□ We thank you, and—in the name of the old company, which ceases to be with the year now nearly gone—we ask you to transfer your favor to our new company, that makes its bow on New Year's Day.

The Cable Company.

J. G. CORLEY, General Manager.

All Hail 1909.

□ The New Year brings us before you with a new name.

□ So, by this name we pledge to old friends—and to new ones who come—the same high standard of service that has always been the pride of our business life and which commends us to the continued consideration of this splendid community.

Cable Piano Company.

J. G. CORLEY, President.

ONLY ONE MEMBER OF CREW RESCUED

Seven Sailors Meet Death When Schooner Is Dashed to Pieces.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
HAMPTON, VA., December 24.—After witnessing the destruction of his ship, and seeing six of the fellow-seamen washed overboard to death, Andrew Jurgensen, a Norwegian sailor, was compelled to pass through the harrowing experience of seeing a seaman gradually die from exhaustion fifteen miles off Hog's Island during the terrific storm of yesterday.

Jurgensen, who is the lone survivor of the eight members of the crew of the three-masted schooner, Jeane Lippett, was picked up by the British steamer Ravenscroft, which also succeeded in getting the body of the dead companion, shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and brought to Old Point.

The Jeane Lippett, Captain Robinson, was bound from Jacksonville to New York, and was laden with lumber. Wednesday morning shortly after 2 o'clock the Lippett ran into the storm off Hog's Island, and soon the big schooner was being buffeted about on the furious waters with the ease of a toy. It was only a few hours later that the Lippett was run into a sand bank, and soon the vessel went to pieces. Captain Robinson washed out to sea on the scattered lumber, while Jurgensen and his companion caught hold of the wreckage.

Lashing themselves to the wreckage, Jurgensen and his fellow seaman drifted until 5 o'clock Wednesday at evening, when the steamer Ravenscroft, from Newport News to New York, which was forced to put back into Hampton Roads on account of an accident to her machinery, picked up the wreckage and saved Jurgensen. The companion had died from exposure. He realized that death was near, and a few minutes before he became unconscious he called to Jurgensen and told him good-bye. Jurgensen's story of the wreck and the terrible experience through which he passed while his companion was dying is pathetic in the extreme. Jurgensen is a Norwegian, and was, therefore, unable to ascertain the name of the dead man.

CREW IS RESCUED.
Shipwrecked Men Brought to Port on Lord Ormonde.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NEWPORT NEWS, VA., December 24.—The British steamship Lord Ormonde, of the Holland-American Line, arrived in port to-day from Rotterdam with Captain James Cooke and the crew of seven men, of the three-masted schooner, which was waterlogged thirty miles south of Cape Henry Wednesday morning during the recent northeast gale. The vessel is anchored near Cape Henry, and Captain Cooke will go to sea with a tug to try to get her into Hampton Roads. The schooner was bound from Charleston, S. C., for New York with a cargo of lumber. She encountered the storm off Cape Poge, Va., and the heavy seas opened her seams. She filled rapidly and became waterlogged Wednesday morning.

The Lord Ormonde rescued the crew about noon Wednesday. The steamer arrived here fourteen days overdue from Rotterdam, and reports a rough passage across the Atlantic.

ONLY ONE MEMBER OF CREW RESCUED

Seven Sailors Meet Death When Schooner Is Dashed to Pieces.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
HAMPTON, VA., December 24.—After witnessing the destruction of his ship, and seeing six of the fellow-seamen washed overboard to death, Andrew Jurgensen, a Norwegian sailor, was compelled to pass through the harrowing experience of seeing a seaman gradually die from exhaustion fifteen miles off Hog's Island during the terrific storm of yesterday.

Jurgensen, who is the lone survivor of the eight members of the crew of the three-masted schooner, Jeane Lippett, was picked up by the British steamer Ravenscroft, which also succeeded in getting the body of the dead companion, shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and brought to Old Point.

The Jeane Lippett, Captain Robinson, was bound from Jacksonville to New York, and was laden with lumber. Wednesday morning shortly after 2 o'clock the Lippett ran into the storm off Hog's Island, and soon the big schooner was being buffeted about on the furious waters with the ease of a toy. It was only a few hours later that the Lippett was run into a sand bank, and soon the vessel went to pieces. Captain Robinson washed out to sea on the scattered lumber, while Jurgensen and his companion caught hold of the wreckage.

Lashing themselves to the wreckage, Jurgensen and his fellow seaman drifted until 5 o'clock Wednesday at evening, when the steamer Ravenscroft, from Newport News to New York, which was forced to put back into Hampton Roads on account of an accident to her machinery, picked up the wreckage and saved Jurgensen. The companion had died from exposure. He realized that death was near, and a few minutes before he became unconscious he called to Jurgensen and told him good-bye. Jurgensen's story of the wreck and the terrible experience through which he passed while his companion was dying is pathetic in the extreme. Jurgensen is a Norwegian, and was, therefore, unable to ascertain the name of the dead man.

CREW IS RESCUED.
Shipwrecked Men Brought to Port on Lord Ormonde.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NEWPORT NEWS, VA., December 24.—The British steamship Lord Ormonde, of the Holland-American Line, arrived in port to-day from Rotterdam with Captain James Cooke and the crew of seven men, of the three-masted schooner, which was waterlogged thirty miles south of Cape Henry Wednesday morning during the recent northeast gale. The vessel is anchored near Cape Henry, and Captain Cooke will go to sea with a tug to try to get her into Hampton Roads. The schooner was bound from Charleston, S. C., for New York with a cargo of lumber. She encountered the storm off Cape Poge, Va., and the heavy seas opened her seams. She filled rapidly and became waterlogged Wednesday morning.

The Lord Ormonde rescued the crew about noon Wednesday. The steamer arrived here fourteen days overdue from Rotterdam, and reports a rough passage across the Atlantic.

ONLY ONE MEMBER OF CREW RESCUED

Seven Sailors Meet Death When Schooner Is Dashed to Pieces.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
HAMPTON, VA., December 24.—After witnessing the destruction of his ship, and seeing six of the fellow-seamen washed overboard to death, Andrew Jurgensen, a Norwegian sailor, was compelled to pass through the harrowing experience of seeing a seaman gradually die from exhaustion fifteen miles off Hog's Island during the terrific storm of yesterday.

Jurgensen, who is the lone survivor of the eight members of the crew of the three-masted schooner, Jeane Lippett, was picked up by the British steamer Ravenscroft, which also succeeded in getting the body of the dead companion, shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and brought to Old Point.

The Jeane Lippett, Captain Robinson, was bound from Jacksonville to New York, and was laden with lumber. Wednesday morning shortly after 2 o'clock the Lippett ran into the storm off Hog's Island, and soon the big schooner was being buffeted about on the furious waters with the ease of a toy. It was only a few hours later that the Lippett was run into a sand bank, and soon the vessel went to pieces. Captain Robinson washed out to sea on the scattered lumber, while Jurgensen and his companion caught hold of the wreckage.

Lashing themselves to the wreckage, Jurgensen and his fellow seaman drifted until 5 o'clock Wednesday at evening, when the steamer Ravenscroft, from Newport News to New York, which was forced to put back into Hampton Roads on account of an accident to her machinery, picked up the wreckage and saved Jurgensen. The companion had died from exposure. He realized that death was near, and a few minutes before he became unconscious he called to Jurgensen and told him good-bye. Jurgensen's story of the wreck and the terrible experience through which he passed while his companion was dying is pathetic in the extreme. Jurgensen is a Norwegian, and was, therefore, unable to ascertain the name of the dead man.

CREW IS RESCUED.
Shipwrecked Men Brought to Port on Lord Ormonde.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NEWPORT NEWS, VA., December 24.—The British steamship Lord Ormonde, of the Holland-American Line, arrived in port to-day from Rotterdam with Captain James Cooke and the crew of seven men, of the three-masted schooner, which was waterlogged thirty miles south of Cape Henry Wednesday morning during the recent northeast gale. The vessel is anchored near Cape Henry, and Captain Cooke will go to sea with a tug to try to get her into Hampton Roads. The schooner was bound from Charleston, S. C., for New York with a cargo of lumber. She encountered the storm off Cape Poge, Va., and the heavy seas opened her seams. She filled rapidly and became waterlogged Wednesday morning.

The Lord Ormonde rescued the crew about noon Wednesday. The steamer arrived here fourteen days overdue from Rotterdam, and reports a rough passage across the Atlantic.

MONTANA COMES BACK INTO PORT

She Is Intercepted at Sea by Wireless and Returns to Hampton Roads.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NEWPORT NEWS, VA., December 24.—The new United States armored cruiser Montana, which steamed from Hampton Roads Wednesday morning for Rockland, Me., to undergo her final acceptance speed tests, returned to Old Point Comfort this morning, she having been intercepted at sea by a wireless message from the Navy Department and ordered back to Old Point. The Naval Trial Board and representatives of the local yard, who were on board, were put off at Old Point, and the cruiser is now preparing to return to sea.

While no official information is obtainable, it is reported at Old Point that the cruiser has been ordered to Venezuela because of the outbreak of war between that country and Holland.

Will Soon Begin Work.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., December 24.—The announcement is made to-day that the raising of the buildings at the corner of Freemason and Granby Streets will begin promptly on January 1st in order to prepare the site for the erection of the new Young Men's Christian Association building. The structure will be five stories high and modern in every particular. It is the hope of the building committee to have it ready for occupancy about October 1, 1909.

Leaves for Panama.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
HAMPTON, VA., December 24.—Mr. Joseph Pulitzer, author and owner of the World, sailed from Hampton Roads for Panama on his private yacht Liberty this morning. Mr. Pulitzer is accompanied on the trip by several members of his family, a force of good staff writers and a party of personal friends. He is going to Panama to look into the conditions of the canal zone.

Board Disposed Of.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., December 24.—Chairman Robert B. Tunstall, of the City Finance Committee, announced to-day that he had disposed of the entire recent issue of city bonds, aggregating $491,000, to N. W. Harris & Co., of New York. The price paid was $95.04.

In Bad Condition.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., December 24.—The British steamer Aurora, with cargo, from Galveston to Europe, made Hampton Roads this afternoon in a crippled condition. In the battle with the storm the machinery was disabled. She will be repaired here.

No Christmas Feast...

Complete without appetizing, satisfying, joy-imparting

Luzianne Coffee

Sold everywhere. 25c. 1 lb. can. The Reilly-Taylor Co. New Orleans.

The Season's Good Cheer

We wish you an abundance of happiness and good cheer. Your friendship and purchases are deeply appreciated.

The Rountree Store

703 East Broad Street

Beneath Good Bread is Good Luck Baking Powder.

Every housekeeper has a keen and commendable pride in her bread, biscuit, cake and other dainties that tempt the appetite and build brain and muscle for the members of her family.

The food satisfaction—this absolute certainty of tasty and healthful food—is a very simple and easy matter if you use "Good Luck" Baking Powder.

The Southern Manufacturing Company
RICHMOND, VA.

A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to All

McCoy
Six and Broad Sts.

Ivory Soap
99 1/2% Per Cent. Pure.

Whitens, Refreshes, Preserves the Skin.